Community Fall Festival, November 23rd and 24th

THE COMMUNITY FALL FESTIVAL NOV. 23-24

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS BEING MADE.

BIG ATTENDANCE EXPECTED

Woman's Club Will Give a Jitney Circus; Free Picture Show and Band Concert; Display of Farm Products.

Final arrangements are rapidly developing for the proposed Community Fall Festival, which will be given Friday and Saturday, November 23rd and 24th. The Fall Festival bids fair to eclipse either the Community Day or Community Bargain Day entertainments, which were given in the months of September and October, as the enthusiasm has already almost reached the boiling point, most of those who have mentioned the affair being decidedly interested in it.

There will be a free show at the Princess Theatre, as on each of the former occasions, excepting Saturday night. The Huntington Beach Municipal Band will give free concerts in the evenings. The Woman's Club is making preparations for a Jitney Circus, and those who visited the one given last year will recall the occasion with considerable pleasure, and the circus will no doubt be one of the features of the Fall Festival. The Woman's Club will also serve a cafeteria dinner Friday noon.

There will be a display of needle work that will be an attractive feature, and the heirlooms will also be on exhibition.

The display of farm products will no doubt be of more interest to the ranchers than most anything else. There will be demonstrations of automobiles and motorcycles.

There will probably be no speaker on beet and bean culture, as has been mentioned, and the proposed turkey shoot will not be given, as was intended.

There was a meeting of the general committee having charge of the festival Wednesday morning, and the following tentative program was outlined:

SEVERAL CHANGES ALONG MAIN STREET

TWO NEW STORES WILL OPEN SATURDAY.

AN UP-TO-DATE GROCERTERIA

W. M. Adair and Meat Market Will Move to New Locations Soon; Robt. E. Lee Starts the Grocerteria.

There are more changes taking place and being contemplated among the merchants along Main street today than for some time past.

W. M. Adair, the well-known grocer, has leased the building formerly occupied by Turner's dry goods store, and will move to his new location about November 25th. The meat market now in the room with Mr. Adair, operated by the Anaheim Beef & Provision Co., will move next door to Mr. Adair at about the same time.

W. R. Wharton has opened up his tea and coffee store in the Collins block, and once more all the stores in this landmark are occupied.

Saturday morning the doors of the new grocerteria will swing open to the public, which will be the first store of its kind in Huntington Beach, and one of the first in this section of the county.

The grocerteria is the latest method of selling groceries for cash, and the overhead expense is reduced to the minimum, as the customers wait upon themselves, the same as in a cafeteria. Many people have preferred to pay cash for their groceries in the past, and hire someone to wait on them. Now comes Robert E. Lee and offers an opportunity for all to save money by waiting on themselves and paying the cashier for the purchases.

There are two such stores in Santa Ana and one in Anaheim, and they are being operated very successfully, and Mr. Lee feels that there is no doubt about his success in this field.

One particularly attractive feature about the grocerteria is that customers do not have to wait until a clerk is at liberty to wait on them, but enter the store and make their selections and pass by the cashier and pay for them.

There is another big attraction about the grocerteria as it will be conducted by Mr. Lee, and that is all goods in packages, such as rice, beans, sugar, potatoes, etc., will be marked with the number of pounds in each and the price. There is a state law governing the marking of package goods, therefore all packages must contain the number of pounds indicated or the dealer is liable and can be arrested. This appears to be a wise move on the part of Mr. Lee, as the public will feel that there is no doubt about getting what they pay for. This law does not apply where one enters a store and purchases fifty cents worth of sugar or some other article and gets less for their money than they supposed they were getting. It is only when the dealer marks the number of pounds on the package and offers it for sale as containing that weight.

Robert E. Lee is well known in Huntington Beach, having resided here for the past seven years, and for five years was employed by W. L. McKenney & Co., grocers. In June of last year Mr. Lee opened a grocery store at 716 Fourteenth street, which he and Mrs. Lee have operated very successfully, beginning with a limited capital. The store on Fourteenth street will be continued, but there will be no delivering as in the past.

Mr. Lee states that economic conditions have been so changed by the war situation that the grocers who survive will be the ones who eliminate a large portion of the overhead expense that has prevailed in the past; therefore he is making a clean sweep and reducing the cost of transacting business to the last penny.

EXHIBITION OF CURIOS NEXT THURSDAY.

AT HOME OF MRS. GROVE ON ORANGE AVENUE.

There will be an exhibition of curios from India and Palestine exhibited next Thursday afternoon, from 2:30 till 5 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Harriet L. R. Grove, 1111 Orange avenue.

Mrs. Grove spent six years in India as a missionary, and has an interesting story to tell about that far-off land and the curios that will be exhibited.

A silver offering will be taken, which will go toward the support of a Bible woman at Lahore, India. Therefore, it is hoped that a large number will take advantage of this opportunity to see a splendid collection of Eastern curios and assist in a good cause.

There are some fish being caught, mostly perch and surf. Most of those who have cast lines from the pier have been rewarded. Some lobsters are also being caught.

SHORT SESSION OF THE CITY TRUSTEES

NO ACTION TAKEN ON FIRE APPARATUS.

$50 MONTH FOR BAND LEADER

Entrance to Pier May Be Paved; City Manager Recommends Purchase of Street Repairing Equipment.

The regular monthly session of the city trustees, Monday evening, was one of the shortest regular sessions in several months, owing to the fact that some of the city officials desired to attend the first number of the High school lecture course.

A communication was read from E. E. French, president of the Chamber of Commerce, recommending that Chas. H. Endicott, director of the Huntington Beach Municipal Band, be paid a salary of $50 per month. The recommendation was concurred in by unanimous vote, the money being appropriated from the music and promotion fund.

City Manager Spencer recommended that some equipment be purchased for repairing paved streets, saying that it was not very badly required at present, but the sooner the work was started the better. President Tarbox referred the matter to Trustees Vavra and Chapin.

There were some representatives of firms selling fire apparatus present, but President Tarbox disposed of the matter by telling them that the question had been referred to a committee, which they would have to deal with. The committee consists of Trustees Huston, Vavra and Decker.

City Attorney Nelson rendered an opinion on the billboard question to the effect that billboards could not be absolutely prohibited within the city limits, but could be prohibited from certain districts.

City Engineer Spencer was directed to advertise for bids for the improvement of Main street from Ocean avenue to the end of the pier, as a letter was read by City Clerk Nutt, from the Pacific Electric Railway Co., stating that the company's right-of-way would be paved.

DO YOU WANT TO JOIN A CLASS IN SURGERY?

If there are enough in this vicinity who would care to join a class in surgery work, under the supervision of Red Cross workers, such a class will be formed and instructed by Dr. Magill and Mrs. Jeannette Magill of Santa Ana. Those interested can notify Mrs. Chas. H. Endicott, Mrs. R. H. Chapin, or Mrs. F. H. Rigdon, Red Cross officials.

Mrs. Endicott announces that there is now a supply of yarn on hand for all who desire to do knitting.

FIRST NUMBER OF LECTURE COURSE

MONTRAVILLE WOOD DELIGHTS AUDIENCE.

ENTERTAINMENT A SUCCESS

Demonstrates His Almost Human Torpedo, the Ultra-Violet Ray and His Improved Gyroscope.

Monday night, before a capacity house, Montraville M. Wood, inventor and lecturer, appearing as the first number of the High School Lecture Course, demonstrated his almost human torpedo, ultra-violet ray and the peculiar properties of his improved gyroscope.

With the aid of the ultra-violet ray and certain minerals he has discovered, Mr. Wood has invented a method of storing daylight so that it will be unnecessary to produce light by artificial means. Mr. Wood demonstrated this by charging some wall paper, the design of which was made from the minerals ground into a paste, with the ultra-violet generator. After being charged, the paper held a deep purple glow, which would continue for eighteen or twenty hours. The inventor stated that had radium been mixed with the mineral paste and then charged with the ultra-violet ray, the paper would continue to glow for fifteen or twenty years.

Mr. Wood next explained the uses of his improved gyroscope. He placed a small gyroscope, rotating at the rate of 4000 revolutions per minute, in a mono-rail car model, which he allowed to run on a slack wire out into the auditorium, over the heads of the audience. The car at no time wavered from an upright position while it contained the gyroscope, but as soon as the gyroscope was removed the car instantly toppled over. Mr. Wood next invited two gentlemen to step upon the stage. J. A. Armitage of Sunset Beach, and Ray Walker of the High school faculty responded. The inventor then started in motion a large 24-pound gyroscope, which he placed on the floor in an upright position. Mr. Armitage and Mr. Walker were then requested to take turns in trying to push the gyroscope over. Their efforts were futile. When it seemed that they were about to succeed, the gyroscope would straighten up to its original position. Mr. Wood then showed the method of accomplishing what they had failed to do. He placed his finger at the side of the instrument, near the top, and gradually lowered his finger to the floor. The gyroscope followed his finger.

Mr. Wood next demonstrated the action of his almost human torpedo—the torpedo with ears. The torpedo was placed upon a pedestal and the "ears" adjusted to the sound of a wooden rattle which the inventor had. He then stood off to one side and sounded the rattle. The propeller immediately started, and the torpedo turned in the direction of the sound. Mr. Wood stated that the propeller of each ship has a different sound. The "ears" are adjusted to the sound of the propeller of the ship which it is to attack and the torpedo is started on its way at 40 knots an hour, which is faster than any ship travels. The torpedo will not touch any other ship, but will dog the trail of the ship to which it is "tuned" and blow off its propeller. The ship is not sunk, but merely disabled and can be taken as a prize. Mr. Wood stated that in case the ship which the torpedo was pursuing saw the torpedo coming and stopped so as to avoid being struck, which is a successful way of avoiding the ordinary torpedo, his invention will disappear beneath the water and remain there until the vessel again starts, when it will resume the chase. He also said that the United States had sunk eighteen German submarines and picked up 385 torpedoes since the beginning of the war. Each torpedo costs $3000, making a total value of $1,155,000 for the torpedoes picked up. Mr. Wood further demonstrated the sensitiveness of the "ears" by connecting one of them to a large incandescent light. He then asked that someone suggest a word. The "ear" was then tuned to that word, and each time it was pronounced by him the light flashed on, and would not light when other words were pronounced. The same happened when he asked the audience to clap their hands. At each clap the light flashed on for an instant.

The lecture was not only entertaining, but very instructive, and was worth far more than the price asked for admission. Mr. Wood is a scientist and inventor of recognized ability, and was formerly closely associated with Thomas A. Edison. Those who were fortunate enough to be present at the lecture expressed great satisfaction with it, and many expressions were made to the effect that this will be the best lecture course that the High school has yet staged.

The management of the lecture course cannot be praised too highly for the splendid success of the entertainment Monday evening, and if the succeeding numbers of the course are on a par with the initial number, there can be no doubt whatever but that the lecture course this year will surpass those given in former years.

The next number of the lecture course, the Homeland Quartette, will be given at the Grammar school auditorium Thursday evening, November 22nd.

RED CROSS FUNDS KEPT IN SANTA ANA BANK.

OFFICERS MUST GO AND ASK FOR SMALL AMOUNTS.

The affairs of the Red Cross are not being conducted to the entire satisfaction of all those who so liberally contributed to the fund here some time ago.

It was understood at the time the subscriptions were taken that 25 per cent of the amount would be kept in the treasury of the Huntington Beach auxiliary. Then it was decided by the Los Angeles officials that all of the money would have to be forwarded and the percentage returned.

Now, the amount due the auxiliary in this city is being held in the Farmers & Merchants National Bank of Santa Ana, of which, Harry L. Hansen, treasurer of the Santa Ana Red Cross, is cashier. The amount was $461.46, but Mrs. Chas. H. Endicott, president of the Huntington Beach auxiliary, was in Santa Ana Monday and succeeded in getting $50, with which to buy yarn. Mr. Hansen informed Mrs. Endicott that when bills for goods were presented he would pay them, but Mrs. Endicott informed him that no yarn could be purchased in Santa Ana and was badly needed in Huntington Beach. Mr. Hansen then gave her a check for $50. This money belongs in Huntington Beach.

SPRINGDALE FAMILY WILL MOVE HERE SOON.

MR. AND MRS. EARL FARRAR BUY MAIN STREET HOME.

The Huntington Beach Co. has sold to Earl Farrar, the residence at 1836 Main street, and he and Mrs. Farrar and family will soon move into their new house, where they will make their future home. The house is a modern five-room cottage, built some months ago by the Huntington Beach Co. Mr. Farrar is one of the young and successful beet and bean growers of the Springdale section of the famous peatland district, and will continue to farm.

TRAIN LOADS OF GRANITE FOR NEWPORT HARBOR.

The many train loads of rock passing through Huntington Beach is bound for the jetty at the entrance of Newport Harbor. The trains consist of from 5 to 25 cars of granite, in various sizes and shapes.

BATH HOUSE CLOSED.

The bath house and plunge closed for the season last week. The business for the past season was the most satisfactory, with the exception of the season of 1915, since the plunge was constructed.

THAT RAINY DAY

Started everybody thinking about their winter garden. Some have grabbed old Father Time by the forelock and have a fairly good garden started, but right now is the time to finish up the job.

You can plant Canadian Wonder beans, beets, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, chive, callards, endive, garlic sets, kale, kohlrabi, leek, lettuce, mustard, onions, parsley, parsnips, peas, radishes, rhubarb roots, spinach, Swiss chard and turnips.

Just think of the good things to eat from a garden planted now. No one need complain about the high cost of living if they have a good garden.

NEW TEA AND COFFEE STORE IS NOW OPEN.

THE COFFEE ROASTER HAS NOT ARRIVED.

William R. Wharton announces the opening of his new tea and coffee store in the Collins block, where he is offering the best lines of tea and coffee at attractive prices.

Mr. Wharton has been disappointed in not receiving his coffee roaster in time to have it in operation for his opening, but states that he has arranged with a Los Angeles firm to make daily shipments of fresh roasted coffee until the arrival of his new roaster, which is en transit.

Mr. Wharton is well known in Huntington Beach, and for the past year had been employed in the grocery store of W. L. McKenney & Co.

The new establishment was opened for business Thursday, and Mr. Wharton reports a satisfactory business.

FISHERMEN ARE ROBBED BY THE WHOLESALERS.

NEWPORT NEWS POINTS OUT A GRAVE INJUSTICE.

That there is something rotten in other places besides Denmark, says the Newport News, is evidenced by the fact that the greedy gluttons of Los Angeles, to whom the local fishermen are compelled to sell their fish, will pay them only 4 cents a pound, while the same fish are being retailed at 13½ cents a pound, making a difference in price between the man who catches the fish and the consumer of 9½ cents per pound. Jesse James was an angel when compared with these highwaymen, who rob the unorganized fishermen with brazen and unconcealed immunity.

In San Pedro, the canneries are only offering one cent per pound for sardines, and when this same product is placed on the shelves of the retailer the ultimate consumer pays twenty-eight cents per pound. Hogs are hogs, but for climbing in the trough lengthwise and rooting the little fellow out, these two-legged swine have got our four-footed bacon producers beat a mile. Here is a job for Food Controller Herbert Hoover to take up and compel these yeggs to pay a fair price to the fishermen.

There was a meeting of the library trustees Saturday evening, with H. L. Heffner, A. W. Griffith, H. T. Dunning and Mrs. Ed Manning present. Nothing but routine business was transacted. There was some discussion of plans for future improvements, but no definite action was taken.

WEEKLY GREETING.

Goodness is to take the common things of life and walk truly among them. Happiness is a great love and much serving.—Oliver Schreiner.

CRITICISM REVEALS TRUE CHARACTER.

Criticism is the acid test of true character. It is a strange fact, however, that but few persons realize that the critic with a corrective tendency has been their best friend.

There is, of course, a sharp line of distinction between fault-finding and just or honest criticizing. There are many who become very angry over the slightest criticism, not realizing that the man has not yet appeared on this planet who could perform any overt act or write any sentence, phrase or paragraph that would please everyone whose attention was attracted by the effort.

After all, criticism is nothing more than free speech, and those who become so exorcised over some minor criticism as to abuse or seek to do bodily injury to the offender would be as dangerous to society as is the German Kaiser if they were endowed with equal temporal power.

A short time ago the News stated that there were reasons to believe that there were some school teachers in Huntington Beach who were not as much interested in the general welfare and prosperity of the community as they should be. No names were mentioned, but Claude E. Swift, Ray Walker and C. W. Sprotte called to object to the editorial. Mr. Swift and Mr. Walker were pleasant and gentlemanly in their attitude and remarks, thereby revealing temperaments that qualify them for their chosen work, and for which they are entitled to credit.

Some time ago, A. E. Thomas of Hollywood wrote a letter, which appeared in the News, in which he cited many things that should be done for the improvement and betterment of Huntington Beach. No names were mentioned, but, indirectly, Trustee Huston was probably affected more than anyone else, and yet he was more pleasant in discussing the matter afterwards than any others who were less referred to, thereby displaying an admirable disposition.

It is easy to smile when you receive the plaudits of those around you, but only those of real character can do so under a shower of adverse criticism.

THE SUGAR BOWL.

The Sugar Bowl, published at Hynes, Los Angeles county, is the latest publication to be launched in the Southern California field of journalism. The initial number, issued November 1st, states that the Sugar Bowl will be devoted to the sugar industry and livestock. The editor's identity is not made known, the Sugar Bowl Printing Co. being the publishers. The following appeared on the first page of the first number of the Sugar Bowl:

Sugar is one of the prime necessities to the human race. It enters into the domestic economy of the family more than any other one article of food.

There is not a meal served but what sugar is one of the principal ingredients.

The United States consumes about one-fifth of all the sugar produced in the world, and we only produce about 45 pounds out of every 100 consumed.

There are seven factories, with an investment of $15,000,000, producing annually 234,000,000 pounds of sugar.

The relations between the grower and factory are more closely allied than in any other branch of agriculture. They are more dependent on each other than any other staple crop.

With a production ranging from 4½ tons per acre, showing a loss of $5.00 per acre, to 23½ tons per acre, showing a profit of $119.10 per acre, shows that there is a wonderful room for improvement.

There are two sources of sugar: from cane and sugar beets. The latter furnish about 15 per cent or 15 pounds out of every 100 consumed.

The area for sugar cane is limited, while that for sugar beets is sufficient to provide for our domestic consumption.

According to the Federal Food Commissioner, California offers sections where "the extraction per ton is far above the average for the United States, and considerably above the average for any other state."

Southern California has 100,000 acres devoted to sugar beet culture, representing an investment in land and improvements of $30,000,000; equipment, $10,000,000; total, $40,000,000, on behalf of the growers.

The same applies more or less to the factories. Some show a loss, while others show a profit.

To encourage a higher degree of efficiency, both in the production of the sugar beets and the manufacture and sale of sugar, will be the policy of the Sugar Bowl.

An industry in which more than $50,000,000 is invested in Southern California, producing $15,000,000 annually of a necessary staple as sugar demands a journal devoted to its interests. Our slogan will be: "Better Quality, Better Yield, and a Better Price for Sugar, Livestock and Hogs—two important by-products of the Sugar Beet production!"

We ask the greatest co-operation and aid of every grower and every sugar user in Southern California.

If you have a mind to adorn your city by consecrated monuments, first consecrate in yourself the most beautiful monument—of gentleness and justice and benevolence.—Epictetus.

PRIZES FOR DISPLAYS NOT YET DECIDED ON.

THE COMMITTEE WILL REPORT NEXT WEEK.

The report of the committee on prizes on another page of the News is only the result of the first meeting of that committee, and details were not worked out. The amount for the best display may be more than that mentioned, and will probably be confined to exhibits in the territory bounded by the Santa Ana river and Garden Grove road. The chances are that most of the prizes will be ribbons. When awarding prizes for cooked food displays, the conservation of food will probably be taken into consideration.

MANY APPLICATIONS FOR NIGHT SCHOOL.

INDICATIONS ARE THAT IT WILL BE POPULAR.

Many applications have been filed by those who desire to enter the proposed night school, and there now appears to be no doubt about the success of the undertaking from the start.

Principal V. B. Brown and the High School Board are to be congratulated upon their progressiveness in this matter.

HERE IS A CHANCE TO TRY YOUR SKILL.

BANK IS OFFERING PRIZE FOR BEST IDEA.

The First National Bank believes in good advertising, and now desires a novel plan for advertising to be used at the coming celebration. A prize is offered for the best suggestion.

If you have any ideas as to good advertising, make them known to the officials of this popular financial institution, and you may capture the prize.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(By V. B. Brown, Principal.)

The grades are out for the first month of school. The classes in some cases were handicapped because of our inability to get books at first. Again, we are shortening the day's program this year, so that students are getting home earlier than usual. That leaves more studying to be done at home. The attention of the parents is called to this fact so that they may see that pupils have time for the preparation of their school work. The general average of the work is fair, but not as good as we want it to be another month.

The honor students for the month—that is, those who get an average of 90 per cent or above, are: Margaret Cole, highest average, Carrie Mallet, Arthur Burns, Gladys Barnes, Izetta Cobb, Adele Johnston and Eunice Stockton.

The first number of the lecture course seemed to please everybody. The crowd was large, and the receipts at the door were encouraging. We are assured of an excellent course of entertainments. The schools within the High school district sent in enthusiastic delegations, many of whom earned tickets by selling and as prizes in the poster contest. The next number is the Homeland Quartet, November 22nd.

The Sophomores entertained the Freshmen last Friday night in the Manual Arts building. The decorations were such as to give a ghostly feeling to all who entered the precincts of the spirit land. The Freshmen and faculty were given numerous scares, after which contests and other forms of entertainment were entered into. Then the guests were feasted in the cafeteria. The room was lighted with candles, which threw weird shadows that flickered on the black cats and witches and owls that gazed in silence upon the company.

Banner Day has been postponed until Tuesday at 10:45 o'clock. Each class puts on a special stunt; first and booby prizes are given. Then the banners are re-arranged on the walls, and the new class puts up its emblem.

New students are: Gladys Thornton of Colton, and Mary Mueller of Talbert.

Many applications have come in for work in the night school. Others who desire studies will please get in touch with the principal or F. H. McElfresh.

SQUIRREL POISONING WEEK.

The last legislature passed an amendment to the County Horticultural Commissioner law, declaring ground squirrels to be a public nuisance and requiring the destruction of them.

It is the duty of the county horticultural commissioner to enforce this law.

To aid and encourage this work, the county has planned to prepare three tons of poisoned barley and sell it to the growers at cost, the growers to furnish the containers.

In order that this work may be as effective at the start as possible, the week of November 12th to 17th is designated as "Squirrel Poisoning Week," and everybody is requested to make a special effort to poison squirrels at this time.

For those landowners who do not poison the squirrels on their property, there is only one course to pursue. That is to serve them with a legal notice and for the county to proceed to do the poisoning and charge the expense to the land.

Now let everybody that has squirrels on their property work together for the benefit of all.

ROY K. BISHOP,
County Horticultural Commissioner.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS. PROCEEDINGS OF THE

[Santa Ana Register, Nov. 8th.]

Plans and specifications presented by County Surveyor McBride, for the paving of the Santa Ana canyon road from the end of the present paving at Peralta to the Riverside county line, excepting the portion where there is a fill at Sulphur Slide, were adopted, and December 5th was set as the time for receiving bids for the work.

December 5th was also set as the time for receiving bids for placing of a surfacing of Topeka mixture on a road at Buena Park.

Upon his low bid, Steele Finley was awarded a contract for paving at San Juan Capistrano. His bid was $4582.22.

Wells & Bressler got the contract for paving 800 feet at the west approach of the Olive bridge. The bid was $1152.

The vacation of a street at La Habra, another at El Modena, another at Carlton, and of streets and alleys in the Anaheim cemetery were ordered.

A deed for a right-of-way for a road from the El Modena depot to El Modena, from the Hewes Realty Company, was accepted.

W. J. Renshaw of Fullerton was employed to draw a map and plans for a proposed road improvement district for the paving of East Orangethorpe avenue, near Fullerton. The district will pay for a part of the paving, and the county will contribute to the fund.

Frank Maag was granted a sprayer's license.

Supervisor Leck was given permission to spend in excess of $500 and not over $1,000 in improving Edinger street. Similar permission was given for work on the Aliso-El Toro road.

"MR. OPP" WILL BE HERE SATURDAY EVENING.

Good Comedy Program Sunday Night.

"THE GOLDEN GOD" TUESDAY EVENING.

The efforts to supply the demand for screen entertainment has brought to view the fruits of many imaginings, and every once in a while out of the multitude some one production stands forth pre-eminently above the mediocrities that have gone before. Such a picture is "Mr. Opp," which will be seen at the Princess on Saturday evening, with Arthur Hoyt, Neva Gerber, George Cheeseboro and George Hernandez playing the principal roles. "Mr. Opp" is a story of optimism, a lesson in perseverance and good cheer under the most depressing circumstances. Misfortune haunted "Mr. Opp," but there was never an end to his perseverance and optimism in the protection and support of his mentally afflicted sister. He was an optimist, but everything he attempted proved a failure, but his love, loyalty and courage held true. It is a picture that teaches a big lesson, and shows that if one hangs out long enough and puts on a bright face, that even misfortune and hard luck get discouraged and let him alone. The characters of the entire picture are unusual, yet true to nature; the acting is entrusted to some of the best of the Bluebird stars, and the photography is beautiful, abounding in wonderful outdoor scenes, taken amid the beautiful Kentucky hills.

Sunday night, a good diversified program of comedy drama and educational films will hold the screen. Something to please all, old and young.

Mrs. Nelson has made a departure from the usual Tuesday night program. Owing to the increasing price on account of the war tax, she has decided to reduce the admission on the feature night to the usual price, so that the prices for Tuesday nights hereafter will be 11 cents for adults and 6 cents for children. In doing this there will be no reduction in the quality of the features, but the same high standard for which the feature nights have become noted will be maintained throughout. The offering for Tuesday night will be a production of one of the Apollo Picture Co.'s art dramas, entitled, "The Golden God." The theme of this picture is the futility of wealth in bringing happiness. It is a story of strong dramatic interest and exceptional force. "George Woods," the central character of the story, is happy and contented with his wife and little daughter in a country village. He is offered a position as chauffeur of a New York millionaire and accepts the offer and goes to the city. He sees everyone around madly in pursuit of wealth and the fever enters his blood, and, through a crooked deal, he obtains money with which to speculate in Wall Street. His speculations are successful, and from that time on he becomes a mad devotee of the "Golden God." Wife and child, home life, and all the better instincts are sacrificed and made subservient to his one mad ambition to amass great wealth. The realization of his dream of ambition brings no happiness either to himself or family. Though they have everything that money can buy, they are poor in the one great desire of their heart, which is happiness. How Mary, his wife, finally wins him from his vain pursuit and opens his eyes again to the true happiness forms the interesting and convincing story of the play. Acted by an exceptional cast, it is a drama of unique appeal, which will convince and interest everyone who sees the picture.

Dr. Huff was one of the most patriotic individual buyers in the district, as he shared first honors with Judge J. W. Shirley, having bought $1000 worth of bonds.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES

[By the Principal.]

On Monday, November 12th, the Grammar school faculty will visit bigger schools, so they may see the latest in teaching in actual practice, in order that this school may be on a par with other schools. This custom is followed by most schools, as nearly all schools have their vacations at the same time. There will be no school on Monday.

November 28th, the school will give its Thanksgiving program in the school auditorium. The program will be open to anyone.

The teachers have planned to have a Visiting Forenoon in the near future.

The school has planned to have benches placed within the courts of the building. This will prevent the scattering of papers.

The following is a summary of "Regulations of the State Board of Education Relating to Supervision of Moral Conditions in Public Schools:" Gambling, immorality, profanity, frequenting pool rooms, using tobacco, liquors, etc., cannot be allowed among the pupils, and it names suspension as the punishment. There is a fine or imprisonment, or both, provided for the one furnishing tobacco, etc., to a pupil under age. WILL DEALERS OR SALESMEN OF TOBACCOS GOVERN THEMSELVES ACCORDINGLY?

The principal cordially invites the patrons in particular and the public at large to visit any department or all rooms at any time, in order that they may fully appreciate the splendid corps of teachers he has, and the fine work being done by each one. Programs will be found on the outside of the doors, or near the doors, for the benefit of anyone wishing to avoid a study period and to hear a recitation. All rooms are numbered or lettered, except the kindergarten—it will be found in the south basement. The teachers know each other, the pupils and the system. Each teacher has been placed to an advantage. The kindergarten director, Miss Price, and her assistant, Miss Pickwell, cannot be beaten. I have yet to see any teacher that can teach pupils more in equal length of time than can Mrs. Thompson of the first grade. She has had the experience, and, altho strong on discipline, she loves her little people. Miss Grabill, the second grade teacher, is doing excellent work. She is full of system and co-operation and is always trying to keep her work up to a high standard. We knew that Miss Stebbins was fine in her chosen work of Household Arts, and we have found that she has also found her place in the third grade. In order to be first class in the primary work, she attended Miss Swope's school of methods last summer. A teacher with Miss Swope's teaching and training is bound to do well. Miss Stebbins, in addition to her original classes, has taken on a fifth grade sewing class. Miss O'Keefe of the fourth grade has had a wide experience in teaching, and we know that she will always do the work in the right way. Her experience is of great value to us. Miss Davis of the fifth grade has had only two to three years' experience, but I know of no teacher that has any more ambition or of anyone that has made more progressive strides. When at work, she makes you think of "Something doing every minute." Miss Mitchell is the only teacher doing ungraded work. This is her first public experience, altho she has had training in the Normal—such as especially fits her for this individual work with pupils in the first five grades. We are well satisfied with her work.

Miss Clark of the sixth grade has had special training for the higher work, and, altho in demand by other schools, she has preferred to come back to this school, much to the satisfaction of the rest of us that know her and her work. Miss Nichols of the seventh grade is doing good teaching. She is always self-poised. She is one of those teachers that visiting principals are likely to desire for their own schools. The school is indeed fortunate in having men teachers in the eighth and seventh-eighth grades like Mr. Skinner and Mr. Hall. Both are good teachers and "clean" men. Each is trying to rival himself, but not each other. Supervisors have told me that it was dangerous, as regards my position, to get good men teachers. Let me say that these men, as well as the lady teachers, are cooperating with me beautifully. Our music and drawing teacher, Miss Davenport, is doing great work in both departments. One so full of her work and full of life is bound to get results. I have wondered how we managed to hold her for another year.

The teaching is good, the discipline is almost automatic, and it is good, and we believe the system is good. Come and see the teachers at work and learn to know them on their merits, for their real teaching and their real lives comprise the most valuable part of your educational assets.

In closing, let me say that the teachers have freely expressed that they wish to co-operate with the people of this town, in which they live and work.

TEN YEARS AGO

The Following Items Appeared in the Huntington Beach News of Nov. 8th, 1907.

L. T. Wells would be classed as a small man, but he certainly does raise big things on his peatland ranch, near the cannery. A short time ago the News told of a big beet crop he raised this year. Tuesday morning, he brought some apples to town that would almost pass for beets in size. One of them measured 13 inches in circumference, and there were several more nearly as large. They are the Pearmain variety.

Things are humming in the celery fields, there being from 5 to 10 carloads daily going to the big markets. There will probably be 75 carloads go forward next week. W. E. Gerhart left Monday for the East, where he will remain for the season as agent for the association. He was accompanied by W. T. Newland, who will gather statistics relative to the late shipments last year.

J. H. Birch will become a resident of Huntington Beach and George Edwards will move to Westminster. This is the result of a trade, by which Mr. Birch gets the Edwards cottage on Sixth street, between Walnut and Olive.

Mrs. B. F. Lindsley arrived in the city from Frederic, Wis., on Friday last for a two-months' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Stearns, corner Third and Ocean. Mrs. Lindsley is a sister of Mrs. C. J. Gardner.

The Huntington Beach Library Association was formed yesterday morning. The board consists of T. B. Talbert, M. E. Helme, S. L. Blodget, W. D. Seely and S. W. Price. Mr. Seely has been appointed librarian, and the library will be located in the office of the Huntington Beach Realty Co.

C. W. Warner has circulated petitions to the Board of Supervisors, asking that the Newport and Laurel districts be set apart from the Huntington Beach Union High School district. This is the second step in getting the proposition of voting bonds before the people of the district.

G. O. Franklin visited his mother in San Bernardino, Sunday.

SERGEANT TURNER'S WEEKLY LETTER.

Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Alabama, November 2nd, 1917.

Dear Friends:

Will only be able to drop a line or so, as there has been very little in the past week to write about.

There is considerable change going on in our company, but we don't know as yet what it all means.

The weather is cold night and day now, and today we are having a strong, cold wind, which makes it almost impossible to keep our tents warm.

The intensive training is now on for all but the quartermasters' corps. This is done by our own generals and captains, but they are receiving help from French and British officers, who are now here for that purpose. The fields are covered with barbed wire entanglements and French trenches. Of course, you know this is to give the men practice in real warfare. Our infantry and heavy artillery are now at play, for they are at target practice. While the target grounds at the nearest point are 16 miles from the main camp, still the heavy shooting makes such a noise you can hardly think, and it shakes the ground continually. Our trucks are hauling supplies to these target camps. The infantry is also over there.

We have had beautiful moonlight nights, but very cold. I was accidentally reminded the other night that it was Hallowe'en. I don't believe one man in a hundred thought of it. I was in Montgomery and saw the youngsters running around with lanterns and with sheets over their heads, as you and I used to do. For one brief second I flew back in memory and thought of the time when I did just such things, and just then a commissioned officer stepped near me, and I looked down over my clothing, and, saluting, found myself once more a soldier in the greatest army on earth. I am proud of it.

Uncle Sam goes steadily on with his preparations, and we are only hoping now that Russia won't go back on us, for we feel it would be a great drawback.

One town in Ohio got quite an idea for some of the boys which she has down here. She has started a mess fund, which is to be added to that supplied by the army, so that the boys can have a few dainties once in a while. They are quite happy over it.

I see by the News that Huntington Beach is taking the part of a city and is fast becoming one of considerable importance. There seem to be many changes, and I feel the most of them are for good.

As there is no more to write this time, I will close.

As ever, your friend,
SERGEANT FOREST B. TURNER.

THE JOHN MUIR TRAIL.

Eight miles of the John Muir trail have been completed, and two bridges partially constructed this season on the headwaters of the San Joaquin river in the Sierra National Forest, according to a recent report of the Forest Service. Much of the construction work was done through hard rock at elevations ranging from eight thousand to twelve thousand feet, and, owing to the shortness of the summer at these altitudes, work was not begun until July and had to be abandoned early in October. Great difficulty was experienced in keeping a crew because of the loneliness and isolation of the region.

The eight miles of trail were completed in two sections; first, a stretch of three and one-half miles from the mouth of Piute creek up the south fork of the San Joaquin river to the mouth of Evolution creek. This trail was built with a grade averaging six per cent, nowhere more than fifteen per cent. At a point on this stretch stone cribs for a bridge with a sixty-eight-foot span across the river were constructed, and the timber for the bridge was cut and piled for seasoning. Above the mouth of Evolution creek a second bridge was begun and the necessary material also cut for seasoning. These bridges are to be completed next summer, as is also the temporary trail up Evolution creek to Barrier Rock. The second section of trail completed was from Barrier Rock, around the shores of Lake Helen, to the summit of Muir Pass, 12,059 feet in elevation. The chief difficulties in construction were found at Barrier Rock, which rises almost perpendicular on both sides of the canyon. Here it was necessary to blast a half-tunnel along one face of the rock.

The John Muir trail, which has been under construction for the past three seasons, is a monument to John Muir. It is being built by the Forest Service with state funds, under the direction of the state engineer. When complete, it will be an easily traveled route along the main ridges of the Sierras from Yosemite to Mt. Whitney, and will open up to tourists and recreation seekers some of the finest scenery in the United States.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY.

Christian Science Society services held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, at the corner of Eighth St. and Olive avenue. The subject for Sunday, November 11th, will be: "Adam and Fallen Man." Cushions of Ease and Elegance

If every maker of tires showed the internal structure of their casings, as the rubber saturated cord body of the Goodrich Silvertown is here laid bare, you would find three types of construction:

Cotton fabric, in five to seven plies. Thread Cord, or Web (strings the size of trout line held parallel the circumference of the tire, interspaced by cross threads) gummed together in five to seven plies—meaning internal heat.

And cable cord, the unique, patent protected, two-play structure found ONLY in GOODRICH SILVERTOWNS, the original cord tire.

MASS MEETING TO CONSIDER BIG QUESTION.

FLOOD CONTROL, CONSERVATION AND RECLAMATION.

The following call has been issued by the Tri-Counties Reforestation Committee for a mass meeting to be held in Riverside, Friday of next week:

Riverside, California.
November 16, 1917.

For a long time past spasmodic efforts at conservation, flood control and reclamation have been made in different parts of the three counties of San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange and on practically all of the streams flowing in and through those counties. These efforts have usually been made without reference to their effect, beneficial or otherwise, on other portions of the streams upon which interested parties have attempted to put their plans into effect.

Believing that the matter is of sufficient importance to call forth the best effort for the solution of these vital problems and that the time is now opportune for action, you are earnestly and respectfully invited to attend or send representatives to a mass meeting to be held at Riverside, California, at the Y. M. C. A. building, November 16, 1917, at 10:30 o'clock a. m., for the consideration and if possible for the initiation of plans that will lead to the best method of flood control, water conservation and reclamation of waters of all the streams in the counties of San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange.

Respectfully,
E. O. RICKARD, SETH MARSHALL,
A. S. BRADFORD, Executive Com.
FRANCIS CUTTLE, Chairman.
G. W. SHERWOOD, Secretary.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

[Santa Ana Register, Nov. 7.]

This morning, the Board of Supervisors agreed to contribute $500 to the fund that will be used to put on an exhibit for Orange county at the National Orange Show in San Bernardino in February.

A. S. Bradford, chairman, R. L. Bisby and D. Eyman Huff, committee named by the Associated Chambers of Commerce to handle the show, explained that it is the intention of the committee to put on a novel exhibition, one that will be of credit and of splendid advertising features for the entire county. It is proposed to make it specifically important for every industry of consequence in the county.

The supervisors who were at the Orange Show last year were Supervisors Schumacher, Leck and Finley, and they are all enthusiastic boosters for it.

The committee of the Associated Chambers stated that it would take between $800 and $1,000 to put on the exhibition that they have in mind. What is needed over $500 will be secured either from the various communities or citrus associations.

Bids Received.

Bids were received for road construction as follows:

For 3,000 feet at San Juan Capistrano, part on the San Juan road and part between the state highway and the depot, the county to furnish the cement—Steele Finley, $4582.22; Orange County Engineering & Construction Co., $4972.20.

For the west approach to the Olive bridge, 800 feet, the county to furnish rock and cement—Wells & Bressler, $1152; A. G. Wright of Anaheim, $1480.

For 5200 feet at Buena Park, the county to put a four-inch concrete base on the paving already there—Steele Finley, $3323.20; Fred Hoffman, $3646.96; O. C. E. & C. Co., $3897; A. G. Wright, $4742.40; J. S. Miller, $4138.32.

Garden Grove Petition.

Today, the Board of Supervisors is hearing the petition of residents of Garden Grove for an order for an election upon the incorporation of that place. Attorney H. C. Head presented the petition, and examined a number of witnesses to establish the sufficiency of the petition.

This afternoon, Attorney Walter Eden is presenting testimony by which he hopes to get eighty acres of land at the southeast corner of the proposed city excluded from its boundaries. Attorney A. W. Rutan is to present evidence seeking the exclusion of a strip of about twenty acres on the south edge, near the southeast corner.

There Is Money In Beach Acreage

There are only 8½ miles of high beach frontage now available close to Los Angeles, and 5 miles is occupied by the cities of Santa Monica, Redondo and Long Beach. Huntington Beach has the other 3½ miles.

If you price close-in acreage at the older and larger beach cities, you will find it has reached a figure that is almost prohibitive, and that there is no longer a chance for quick increase and good profits, while at Huntington Beach you can buy good, close-in acreage for

$350 to $500 an Acre

Easy Terms

Full half-acre tracts inside city limits, on or near paved boulevard, with every city convenience.

Terms—$50.00 cash, balance $25.00 every three months. Now is the time to buy, while prices are low.

DO YOU WANT TO JOIN THE SIGNAL SERVICE?

A final drive is now being made to complete the 115th Field Signal Battalion at Camp Kearny, a battalion consisting of 239 men to a division of 30,000 fighting men. We, therefore, request that as much publicity as possible be given to the enclosed notice.

This is the only unit of Signal Corps troops being recruited on the Pacific coast, all of the other divisions having their full quota.

Practically every other man in the organization is a non-commissioned officer, so that the advancement is very rapid.

We are extremely anxious to secure men with the following qualifications: Telegraph operators, wireless operators, telephone operators, electricians from all branches of the electrical workers, auto drivers, truck drivers and motorcycle riders.

Men who have had the equivalent to two years in High school are eligible and will be educated in one or several of the above mentioned branches.

Those of draft age, who desire to enlist, should first visit their draft boards and secure a card stating that they have not been called for examination and may enlist in the army. This card is good for five days.

If consistent, would appreciate marked copies of papers in which write-ups appear. R. J. WALTERS,
